

Special Invitation

IES Nashville - 2017 Education Series

Lighting Calculations: Who, What, How, and Why

Jennifer Jaques, MIES, LC

Attendees will gain a general understanding of the difference between Quality and Quantity of Light and become familiar with various lighting software programs and considerations when selecting a software to use. The need for lighting calculations will be discussed along with the factor and information needed to produce the most accurate calculations. Realizations and considerations of software programs and their accuracy when conducting calculations will be shared.

This session has been approved for 1 IES Learning Unit.

Jennifer had earned her Lighting Certification from the National Council of Qualified Lighting Professionals. In 2008, she became the Authorized Texas instructor for Lighting Analysts' AGi32 lighting software; certified to teach basic, intermediate, and roadway levels of the software.

She has been a member of the Illuminating Engineering Society since 1995. During that time she served the Austin section leadership as Vice-President, Treasurer, and Secretary, and Education chair. She was IES Conference steering committee chair in 2012 and 2013, and 2014 advisory member. In November 2013, she became proud recipient of the IES Presidential Award. Currently, she is the IES South Regional director covering districts 3 and 4 and serves on the IES Board of Directors, and has been re-elected to serve a second term in this role. In addition, she is currently on the advisory board for the Austin IES section, since finishing up another term as Education chair.

Lunch is included as part of the admission costs.

For more information about the IESNA, please visit our web site at www.iesna-nashville.org

When: October 25th, 2017
11:30 AM - 1:30 PM

Where: 2 International Plaza
First Floor Conference Room
(Free parking behind building)

Admission: $25.00 Lunch Provided

Please RSVP via email to:
President@iesna-nashville.org

Illuminating Engineering Society
Nashville Section

